

TWEEN TRIBUNE

Here's how TweenTribune works. Each week day, TweenTribune scours the Web for age-appropriate news stories that will interest tweens (generally defined as kids aged 10 to 15), and invite them to comment. All comments are moderated before publishing, so it's Web-safe.

once a week you will go online to TweenTribune and BLOG about two (2) articles you read.

Here's how you will do it:

1. Go to TweenTribune: <http://tweentribune.com/>
2. Click the "Sign-in" link at the top of the homepage
3. Enter your username and password I have given you and hit "enter"
4. You will then click on the TT (short for TweenTribune) at the top of the page and this will take you to the articles you will read and blog on following the requirements below.

Posting comments on TweenTribune:

1. You've signed in, (by clicking on the "TT" and have found hundreds of articles.
2. Every week, you must find TWO (2) articles that you will post comments on.
3. First, obviously, you must READ the article. To get the full article you must click on the title...
4. Once you have READ the article...
 - a. You will respond to the "Critical Thinking" question at the end of the article in the comment section.
 - b.  IMPORTANT  As you respond to the critical thinking question, be sure to refer to specific evidence from the article letting me know that you have actually read the article and can also show that you know how to provide textual evidence to support your response to the question.
 - c. After you have responded to the critical thinking question, you must state your opinion about the article. Did you find it interesting? Did it surprise you? Why?
 - d.  Be sure to preview your comment and proof it for correct spelling and grammar before posting it. I EXPECT A MINIMUM OF FIVE TO SIX SENTENCES IN EACH BLOG!!! It is due BY FRIDAY.... NOT ON FRIDAY!!
 - e. When you have completed your comment by responding to the critical thinking question, AND providing your opinion on the article, submit your response by clicking on the "Post" button.

That's it! I will be reviewing these comments so that I can give you credit for your blogs. Have fun and explore! These articles are chosen for you and your interests!
... get out there and READ!!!
