Kids can imagine some incredible ways to beat pediatric cancer.

Shouldn't we?

Current approaches to pediatric cancer use the same tired, uninspired therapies we've relied on for decades. It's time for a bolt of inspiration, and CureSearch for Children's Cancer will deliver it. We have the highest potential to quickly deliver new, out-of-the-box treatment ideas to the children who need them most. Children are imaginative when it comes to everything – let's follow their example. Believe a cure is possible, and partner today.
