THE SAN ANTONIO MUSEUM OF ART IS...

THE ONLY ENCYCLOPEDIC
MUSEUM IN SOUTH TEXAS.

OUR CITY'S CLASSROOM.

A PLACE OF WONDER AND DELIGHT.

CHANGING THE WORLD
ONE MUSEUM VISITOR AT A TIME.

Dear SAMA Friends,

Last year we worked to achieve our goal to be the city's premier cultural institution. This ambition begins with our strengths. We have an outstanding collection that spans the globe and five millennia—the only museum of its kind in the region. We have an incomparable campus on the San Antonio River. And we anchor a downtown neighborhood that is transforming itself into a dynamic place for living, working and playing.

When I look back at the principal exhibitions of last year, they reflect, in many ways, our vision for the Museum: Picasso's Guernica tapestry (historic, important, singular); Adad Hannah (innovative, outspoken, provocative); SAMA Collects Contemporary (locally and nationally significant); Aphrodite (beautiful, timeless, in the company of our peers MFA Boston and the Getty).

Life is better in a city with great museums, and we strive to build a great art museum in every way. Last year we expanded our collections, membership, funding, key staff and educational outreach, and we deepened our presence in the community, region and country. We want everyone to know us, not just as a repository of great art, but as a delightful place to visit.

During our free hours on Tuesday evenings, when upwards of 500 people stream through our doors (thanks to support from H-E-B), SAMA reaches the broadest cross-section of our community—something we are strongly committed to doing. In 2011, a generous grant from the Mays Family Foundation allowed us to increase our free hours to include Sunday mornings. We also changed our admission policy on other days so that children 12 and under are always free.

As part of our mission, we expanded our education department and increased the resources devoted to K-12 students and teachers. We initiated groundbreaking partnerships with several under-served schools across the city. In the process, we have broken the mold and created original programming that engages students and their families, with the goal of creating lifelong learners and museum-goers.

Not only is SAMA essential to our city and its people, we also aspire to be a must-visit site—right up there with the Alamo—for the many tourists who visit San Antonio every year.

We have much more to accomplish, but our vision is strong, and we are excited about the future.

GREAT VARIETY FOR YOUR ITINERARY

We walked to SAMA from our hotel on the River Walk, which made for a very enjoyable stroll (although you could take a River taxi right to the entrance if you are on the River Walk). Admission was free since it was a Sunday morning, and we jumped into a docent-led tour that was just starting when we arrived. The museum has a surprisingly large and interesting array of classical ancient art and ancient Chinese art, but the modern Hispanic art alone would have been worth the trip.

EXHIBITIONS

The extraordinary vision and scholarship of the curators drives the Museum's ambitious exhibitions schedule. It takes hundreds—the whole SAMA community—to make it work: Development, Members and Donors, Registrar & Collections, Exhibits, Education, Marketing, Finance & Administration, Facilities & Security, the SAMA Shop, Volunteers and Docents. SAMA mounted seventeen special exhibitions in the fiscal year and produced two traveling exhibitions that showcased our collections at other institutions.

Paul Jacoulet: Views of Korea

August 12 – November 6, 2011

Special Exhibition Gallery, Asian Art

Curator: John Johnston

French-born Paul Jacoulet (1902–1960) spent most of his life in Japan and was the first foreigner to master printmaking in the Japanese tradition. Eight Jacoulet prints depicting Korea comprised the second rotation of his work in the Asian Art Special Exhibitions Gallery.

Seasons of Beauty: Yoshitoshi's Thirty-two Aspects of Daily Life

July 13 – November 14, 2011

Special Exhibition Gallery, Asian Art

Curator: John Johnston

The fourth and final season of SAMA's popular, yearlong exhibition of Taisho Yoshitoshi's (1839–1892) Seasons of Beauty: Thirty-two Aspects of Daily Life featured prints depicting nineteenth-century Japanese women engaged in daily activities. This final season included the title page and the two most famous prints in the series: Drowsy and Strolling.

Animal Instincts: The Photographs of Daniel Lee (above right)

September 29, 2011 – February 19, 2012

Focus Gallery

Curator: David Rubin

This survey exhibition of Daniel Lee's photography from 1993–2010 explored the artist's use of digital technology to create hybrids of human beings and animals, portraying the idea that people often exhibit behavioral, personality, and physical traits which resemble those of animals. Lee was born in 1945 in Taiwan, but emigrated to United States to study art in 1970.

5,000 Years of Chinese Jade Featuring Selections from the National Museum of History, Taiwan and the Arthur M. Sackler Gallery, Smithsonian Institution (facing page)

October 1, 2011 – February 19, 2012

William L. Cowden Gallery

Curator: John Johnston

This major international exhibition organized by SAMA offered an opportunity to experience the great breadth of Chinese history through outstanding works of art executed in jade—ritual objects, weapons, scholar's objects, adornments, jewelry and vessels—arranged chronologically. Primary lenders to the exhibition included the Arthur M. Sackler Gallery, Smithsonian Institution, and the National Museum of History in Taipei, which contributed 45 outstanding jade works, including 5 classified as Important National Treasures of Taiwan.

Imagenes del Pueblo: Spanish Popular Graphics

October 29, 2011 – June 10, 2012

Golden Gallery

Curator: Marion Oettinger

Over the past twenty years the Museum has assembled a collection of more than one hundred works of Spanish graphic art produced during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, most created by anonymous artists for distribution to the masses. With the popularization of printing, religious images, romantic stories, and lurid and often gruesome accounts of crimes and natural disasters became easily and inexpensively disseminated to the majority of society.

Chinese Art of Cricket-Keeping: The Ernest K. H. Lee Collection

December 15, 2011 – June 17, 2012

Asian Special Exhibitions Gallery

Curator: John Johnston

Cricket-keeping has been kept as pets in China for at least 1,000 years, and the finest cricket-keeping objects demonstrate an ingenious combination of function and aesthetics. This exhibition, drawn from the diverse collection of Dr. Ernest Lee, included cricket cages made from a wide range of materials, blue-and-white-porcelain food and water trays, agitators to prepare crickets for fighting, brushes, tongs, cricket-catchers, fighting arenas, scales, carrying tubes, cricket coffins, and cricket beds.

San Antonio Collects: African American Artists

Featuring Works from the Harriet and Harmon Kelley and Irene and Leo Edwards Collections

January 14 – June 17, 2012

American Gallery

Curator: Katherine Luber

In honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the annual Martin Luther King, Jr., March, SAMA presented works by African-American artists spanning the last two hundred years. The works reflected upon the struggles and triumphs of the African-American artistic community and the broad range of African-American identities and experiences.

San Antonio Collects: Theodore Gentilz: Mission Life of San Antonio and Northern Mexico

March 2 – May 20, 2012

Focus Gallery

Curator: Marion Oettinger

Painter and surveyor Theodore Gentilz came to Texas in 1844 and soon settled in San Antonio, where he became intrigued with the already ruined but evocative Spanish missions. Focused around five important paintings that Gentilz left to St. Mary's University (where he served as the first art teacher), this exhibition explored the missions, landscape, and daily life of San Antonio prior to 1900.

March 24 – July 1, 2012

William L. Cowden Gallery

Curator: David Rubin

San Antonio collectors have played an important role in the city's evolution towards becoming recognized as a premier art destination. This exhibition featured a range of works from avid local collectors and the Linda Pace Foundation.

San Antonio Collects: Early European Maps of Egypt

March 2 – July 1, 2012

Egyptian Gallery

Curators: Jessica Powers

San Antonio Collects: Asian Art

March 2 – July 1, 2012

Imperial Chinese Art Gallery

Curator: John Johnston

San Antonio Collects: Latin American Art

March 2 – July 1, 2012

Pre-Columbian Art Gallery, the Spanish Colonial Gallery, the Latin American Folk Art Gallery, and the Modern and Contemporary Latin American Art Gallery

Curator: Marion Oettinger

Sublime Light: A Survey of American Photographs from the Permanent Collection

June 2 – August 19, 2012

Focus Gallery

Curator: Karen Baker

This historical survey gathered more than fifty iconic images from SAMA's holdings of photography, illustrating the breadth and vitality of the medium over the last one and one-half centuries. The exhibition progressed from rare early daguerreotypes, ambrotypes and tintype prints by largely unknown nineteenth-century photographers, to works by some of America's most accomplished fine-art photographers, such as Margaret Bourke-White, Edward Steichen, and Paul Strand, to contemporary images that push digital boundaries.

Rostros de Maria: The Virgin as Archetype and Inspiration

August 18, 2012 – February 20, 2013

Golden Gallery

Curator: Marion Oettinger

Drawing from SAMA's rich collection of Marian images, this exhibition illustrated the broad variation of the genre and demonstrated the agility of religious art to adjust to new times, places and cultures. Deeply rooted in religious beliefs of the Old Testament and pre-Christian ritual associated with fecundity, maternity, nourishment and other core human needs, images of apparitions of the Virgin express the particular needs and desires of myriad local cultures.

Adad Hannah: Intimate Encounters

August 31 – December 30, 2012

Focus Gallery

Curator: David Rubin

Canadian artist Adad Hannah creates staged photographs and video tableaux that reinterpret art-historical masterpieces and raise questions about the change and evolution of a work's meaning over time. For this exhibition, Hannah presented projects created in response to an antique bust of Eros and Aphrodite, a painting of Adam and Eve by Albrecht Dürer, and a nude sculpture from The Burghers of Calais by Auguste Rodin. He also selected a work from the SAMA collection as inspiration for a new series of photographs and videos, using volunteers from the San Antonio community as models.

Head of Aphrodite
(The Bartlett Head)

Greek (Athens), 330–300 BC
Marble

Lent by the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston
Francis Bartlett Donation of 1930.03.743

This is Aphrodite as the ancients saw her: ideally beautiful, transformed by the sculptor from hard, luminous marble into exceptionally soft flesh. One of the finest examples of 4th-century Greek sculpture in the world, it's also one of the most admired likenesses of this complex goddess, with her fleshy, blurred features and remote gaze.

Aphrodite

AND THE GODS OF LOVE

Love in Three Capitals

September 7 – December 9, 2012

Asian Special Exhibits Gallery

Curator: John Johnston

Three rival cities of Japan's Imperial era, Edo, Osaka and Kyoto, were known respectively as political, commercial and cultural capitals. Each city had sprawling entertainment districts that included famous brothels—and the pleasures offered in each city were the subject of lively comparison. This exhibition focused on a rare complete set of twelve shunga prints by artist Okumura Masanobu (1686–1764) depicting sexual encounters in the pleasure quarters of the three capitals.

Aphrodite and the Gods of Love

September 15, 2012 – February 17, 2013

William L. Cowden Gallery

Curator: Jessica Powers

This groundbreaking exhibition revealed the popular ancient goddess Aphrodite in her roles as instigator of sexual desire, patroness of brides, seafarers and warriors, agent of political harmony, adulterous seductress, and mother to mischievous Eros. The exhibition featured 125 statues, vases, terracotta and bronze figures, mirrors and jewelry from the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston's world-renowned Greek and Roman collection together with seven breathtaking works from the Museo Archeologico Nazionale in Naples.

TRAVELING EXHIBITIONS

Fantin-Latour: Impressionist Works from the San Antonio Museum of Art

International Museum of Art and Science

McAllen, Texas

February 16 – August 26, 2012

This exhibition featured a selection of over 40 Ignace Henri Jean Théodore Fantin-Latour lithographs from a collection of more than 150 images bequeathed to SAMA by the late Gilbert M. Denman, Jr. in 2005. Inspired by opera, the images include fantasies of sensuous beauties and nymphs, dreamy allegorical and mythological scenes, and homages to Wagner, Berlioz, Schumann and Brahms.

Rêves de Laque: Le Japon de Shibata Zeshin Avec la collaboration de la collection Catherine et Thomas Edson, San Antonio Museum of Art

Musée Cernuschi, Paris-Musées

Paris, France

April 6 – July 15, 2012

SAMA worked closely with the staff of the Cernuschi Museum in Paris for the exhibition Lacquer Dreams: The Japan of Shibata Zeshin, placing some of SAMA's favorite treasures on view in Europe for the first time.

ACQUISITIONS

SAMA's collection continues to grow in depth, reach, and quality, thanks to the generosity of private donors and income from endowed funds. During this fiscal year, the Museum added 195 new works to its collections.

LOANS TO AND FROM THE COLLECTION

Each year the San Antonio Museum of Art loans works from its collections to galleries and museums around the country and the world—pieces that are generally on display for longer periods than works loaned as part of traveling exhibitions. By sharing our holdings, we take an active part in the international art scene and extend our cultural reputation to areas that might otherwise only remember San Antonio for the Alamo. Similarly, the Museum brings the world to our city, borrowing remarkable works of art that inform and enrich the lives of our visitors. Here are highlights of this vital exchange.

EDUCATION: THE MUSEUM IS A CLASSROOM AND IT'S FREE!

SAMA is a valuable teaching resource for students of all ages.

At the end of this fiscal year we committed to giving no-cost access to the Museum for school groups. Our standard programs are shaped specifically to support curriculum (TEKS) requirements across many subject areas (Social Studies, Language Arts, Science, Math), and we now create custom programs to suit any student group.

To meet our “not-your-average field trip!” goals, we restructured our department, adding a Museum Educator for Teacher and School Programs, and laid the groundwork for another position, Teacher and School Programs Manager, in 2012-2013.

EDUCATION HIGHLIGHTS:

- Launched “San Antonio is Your Classroom” pilot program with P16Plus. This now serves as a model used by P16Plus to improve reading and academic performance of all San Antonio children.
- Brought a new audience to the Museum by partnering with Run Wild Sports and Synergy Studios to create Run with SAMA, which combines sport activity with art tours themed on the body in motion, while increasing awareness of our connection with the San Antonio River.
- Refined and energized our 5-year-long partnership with Good Samaritan Community Services in the SAMA Alliance Program, an off-site after-school program with hands-on art based on SAMA's collections. Recognized for exemplary outreach by the American Alliance of Museums for our collaborative Westside mural.
- Partnered with the San Antonio River Authority, the San Antonio Missions National Historical Park, and Judge Nelson Wolf to hold a sell-out bike tour of the Mission Reach during the Theodore Gentilz exhibition.
- Partnered with the Global Film Initiative to screen the 2012 Global Lens Film Series, which kicks off at MoMA and brings the work of talented filmmakers from countries with developing film industries to our audience.
- Completed a Family Guide for Aphrodite and the Gods of Love and Asian Art as part of our goal to offer Family Guides to our collections and selected exhibitions.
- Received a prestigious federal grant from the Institute for Museum and Library Sciences to conduct an Audience Study. Volunteers collected approximately 2,000 hours of data to help us make informed decisions—from marketing to programming—based on audience needs.
- Laid the groundwork for an agile volunteer Visitor Services department to offer tailored customer service. Increased training for volunteers. Introduced a Visitor Welcome Table during high traffic hours.

MEMBERS & DONORS

With the generous and continuing support of individuals, corporations, and foundations, the San Antonio Museum of Art cares for and expands its collection, presents an ambitious schedule of exhibitions, maintains its galleries, and offers educational and visitor services that bring art to life for our broad community.

Essential support comes from membership in the Museum and its Friends of the Collections, gifts to our Annual Fund, gifts in honor or memory, planned giving and bequests, and exhibition sponsorships. Each gift is greatly appreciated.

THE BUSINESS OF SAMA

It may seem unexpected to attach the word “business” to something as fine as an art museum. But it takes money, and quite a bit of it, to acquire and conserve visual art and to provide access to it for the public in a meaningful setting. The San Antonio Museum of Art is in business, but less the business of art, than the business of inspiration, education and preservation. Art makes possible the delight and transformation visitors can experience. Nonetheless, SAMA is a business with numbers and facts.

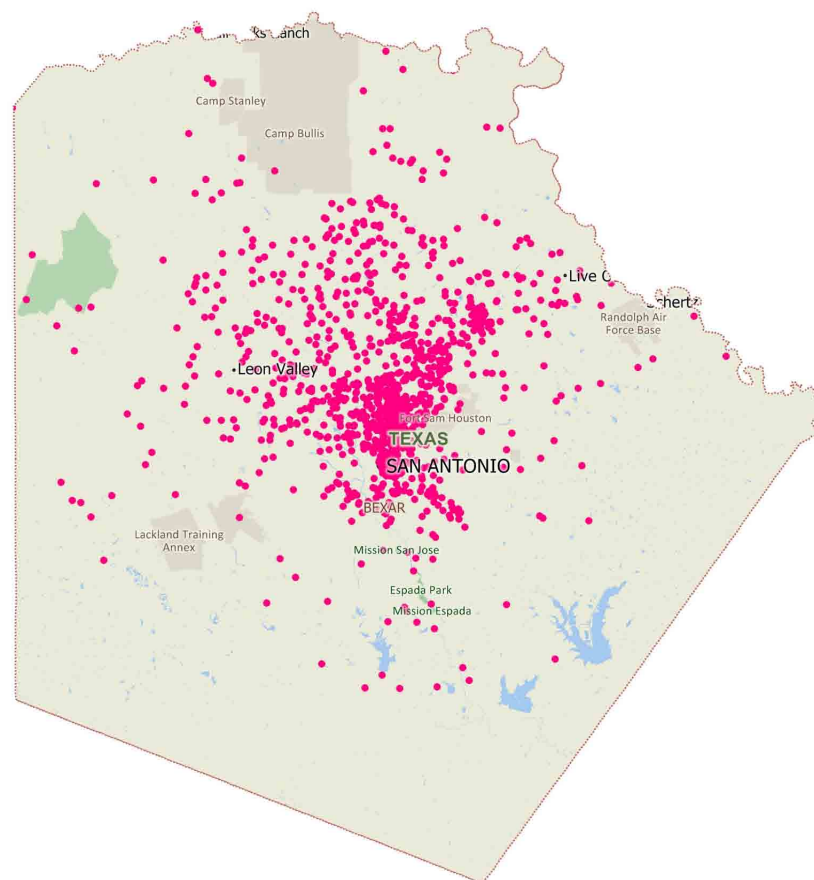

The good news is SAMA is a sound business venture. We operate with a balanced budget. Our latest audited figures show that we devote only 14 cents of every dollar to administrative staffing, operations and fundraising. The rest is spent wisely to produce our collections, exhibitions and programs. Last year, we produced 17 exhibitions and 317 programs.

Most of our revenue comes from fundraising, including our Annual Fund, memberships, grants and bequests. Our endowment income provides additional support (18%). The City of San Antonio last year contributed 7% of our total budget.

WHY SAMA COUNTS

A FEW MUSEUM FACTS

1. Museums contribute $21 billion to the U.S. economy each year.
2. Governments that support the arts see an average return on investment of $7 in taxes for every $1 of funding according to a report by the U.S. Conference of Mayors.
3. Museums bolster our education system, providing more than $2 billion annually in programs for citizens of all ages and backgrounds. Studies show that exposure to the arts improves students' academic performance and decreases the likelihood of risky behaviors.
4. Museums attract tourists. Cultural tourists are the stars of the travel industry, staying 53% longer and spending 36% more than other visitors.
5. Businesses are more likely to relocate headquarters to cities with vibrant arts and cultural organizations.

The San Antonio Museum of Art is a significant economic force. We support hundreds of businesses in San Antonio and Bexar County, as shown in the map above.
