

is coming to the Archdiocesan Center on MAY 3, 2017

Don't miss this opportunity to learn from EdTechTeacher expert,
Tom Daccord:

Integrating Web Tools & Apps
for ANY Classroom

Whether you have a BYOD system or school owned devices, join EdTechTeacher for this one-day workshop designed specifically for high school teachers, technology coordinators, and administrators in the Archdiocese of Hartford.

School teams of 3 or 4 are encouraged to attend!

8:30AM – 2:30PM

Breakfast & Lunch Included

RSVP to Valerie Mara at

Valerie.Mara@aohct.org by April 28, 2017

There is no cost for this workshop!

Participants are asked to bring either an iPad, Chromebook, or tablet.

To ensure maximum engagement and participation, this workshop has a 25 person capacity. Registration is first come first served basis.

More about Tom:

Tom Daccord is Director and Co-Founder of EdTechTeacher. An educational technology speaker, instructor, and author, Tom has worked with schools, districts, colleges and educational organizations in the United States, Canada, Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. He has presented on educational technology topics at national and international conferences, including ISTE (U.S.), FETC (U.S.), ELMLE (Europe), EARCOS (Asia), and NESAS (Asia), as well as organized the international EdTechTeacher iPad Summits in the United States. Tom has also produced a series of online courses on web tool and iPad integration as well as 21st century school leadership and classroom assessment.

A former social studies teacher who instructed in a 1:1 laptop classroom for seven years, Tom has been featured in the Boston Globe for his contributions to teaching with technology and invited to Singapore by the Ministry of Education as an "Outstanding Educator in Residence" in support of efforts to further 21st century learning in schools. Tom is co-author of Best Ideas for Teaching with Technology: A Practical Guide for Teachers by Teachers and iPads in the Classroom: From Consumption and Curation to Creation. His articles on educational technology have appeared in various educational publications such as eSchool News, Daily Genius, and Edudemic. He is the creator of Best of History Web Sites, an award-winning portal, and The Center for Teaching History with Technology, dedicated to helping K-12 history and social studies teachers effectively incorporate technology into their courses.