2018 JCPL Author Series Continues with Edward Kelsey Moore
New York Times Best-selling Author and Cellist to Visit White River Branch

FRANKLIN, Ind. – Authors at JCPL is pleased to welcome musician and New York Times best-selling author, Edward Kelsey Moore to the White River Branch, Saturday, April 21, at 3 p.m.

Edward Kelsey Moore is The New York Times best-selling author of "The Supremes Sing the Happy Heartache Blues" and "The Supremes at Earl's All-You-Can-Eat." He is a professional cellist who has performed with acclaimed orchestras including Chicago Sinfonietta, the Joffrey Ballet Orchestra and the Chicago Philharmonic.

His award-winning essays and short fiction have appeared in The New York Times and a number of literary magazines, including Ninth Letter, Indiana Review, African-American Review and Inkwell. Readers will enjoy the Indiana ties in Moore's work.

The first 100 JCPL cardholders to register for this event will receive a signed copy of Edward's latest novel. Our full interview with the author and registration for this event is online at pageafterpage.org/authors-at-jcpl. This program is supported by a Novel Conversations grant from Indiana Humanities.

Authors at JCPL is a program that brings popular and award-winning writers from around the country to Johnson County. Emotional thriller best-selling author Lisa Scottoline will be the first Authors at JCPL speaker of 2018 when she joins us at Franklin College April 12 at 7 p.m. Last year, Johnson County Public Library hosted four best-selling authors including Adrian Matejka, Kristy Cambron, Salina Yoon and Karin Slaughtert.

The White River Branch is located at 1664 Library Blvd. Greenwood 46142. For more information, please contact Monica Harvey at 317-738-2957 or mharvey@jcpln.org.
