THE BOWL WALK

Developed as part of the renovations in the 2004 Hollywood Bowl Shell Project, The Bowl Walk is a 10-station exhibit around the grounds of the Hollywood Bowl, a Los Angeles County Park, which beckons visitors to view the venue outside and around the theater. The exhibit features visual displays throughout the park, presenting information on the cultural events, history and architecture of the legendary natural amphitheater. The Walk begins at the entrance of the Bowl (on Peppertree Lane) and concludes inside the theater on the Fourth Promenade at the top of the hill.

A map of the Bowl Walk can be found at the Hollywood Bowl Museum or <http://www.hollywoodbowl.com/visit/hollywood-bowl-museum/bowl-walk>

Ten photographic displays along the pedestrian walkways guide visitors through the park: The Muse of Music, Peppertree Lane, Pop & Rock at the Hollywood Bowl, Great Performances, The Shell, The Amphitheater, The Cahuenga Pass Treasure, Flora & Fauna of the Hollywood Bowl, Picnics & Fireworks, and The View from the Fourth Prom. An accessible sign fixed in the plaza area, near the Box Office and The Bowl Store, includes Walk information for patrons with disabilities. The exhibit design is by Hodgetts & Fung. The Bowl Walk was generously funded by California State Parks Bond Act of 2000 through the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation.

PARK & RIDE AND SHUTTLE SERVICE

Shuttle lots ($5) offer convenient parking at three close-to-the-Bowl locations.

EDMUND D. EDELMAN HOLLYWOOD BOWL MUSEUM

The Edmund D. Edelman Hollywood Bowl Museum, located on the grounds of the 88-acre county park, provides a living history of the world-famous venue through a permanent multimedia presentation and themed exhibits updated each season.

Opening on June 28, 2013 is "Live from the Bowl!," an exhibit that features films, videos, and recordings of live concerts at the Hollywood Bowl and the changing media technology that has developed and changed dramatically during the Hollywood Bowl's 91-year history. Live recordings and videos are displayed in individual environments in the style of each era, from an early Victrola to the latest mobile devices.

The first live recording made at the Hollywood Bowl was released in 1928 on RCA Victor "His Master's Voice," with Eugene Goossens conducting the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra (made up of members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic). In an "album" with 6 pages, each of the fragile 10-inch, 78 rpm records holds just three minutes of music on a side.

The first live radio broadcast from the Hollywood Bowl was in 1925. Subsequently, dozens of concerts were broadcast live from the Bowl, including classical concerts, benefits, and memorials. The exhibit features a working radio from the 1920s and a home record player of the 1940s with a delightful 78 rpm novelty record called "In the 88th Row of the Hollywood Bowl" by the charming French actor Robert Clary.

During World War II, oversize records (16 inches in diameter) were made of Hollywood Bowl concerts and distributed throughout the world to soldiers in the field and broadcast on Armed Forces Radio Service. The exhibit features original Armed Forces disks and an original photograph showing soldiers listening to a Bowl concert in the field.

After the war, LP (long-playing) records became popular. These 12-inch disks were lighter weight, unbreakable, and played at 33-1/3 rpm, allowing for much longer pieces of music to be recorded. Among classic "Live at the Bowl" LPs are the 1956 release "Jazz at the Hollywood Bowl" featuring Ella Fitzgerald, Louis Armstrong, Art Tatum, Oscar Peterson, and other jazz giants, and "The Beatles at the Hollywood Bowl," recorded in 1964 and 1965, complete with the sounds of screaming fans. This section of the exhibit features a 1960s-era stereo setup with turntable, amplifiers, woofers, and tweeters.

The first national live television broadcast from the Hollywood Bowl took place in 1954. On display is a vintage TV showing singer Eddie Fisher presenting Louis Armstrong, Peggy Lee, and other famous artists of the day.

With the advent of the audio cassette, VHS video tape and inexpensive home players, live Hollywood Bowl concerts from the likes of The Doors and Monty Python and re-issues of earlier broadcast recordings like the Gershwin Memorial of 1937 and a benefit concert from 1950 with Bob Hope and Peggy Lee were available everywhere. Many of these have been re-released on DVD, along with new releases from Van Morrison, Aerosmith, DJ Shadow, and Cut Chemist. CD releases include "Simon and Garfunkel at the Hollywood Bowl" (1968), as well as many vintage classical live recordings from the 1940s with Leopold Stokowski, Vladimir Horowitz, and Arthur Rubinstein.

Continuing in the main gallery of the museum is Hollywood Bowl: Music For Everyone. Taking its cue from the Bowl's slogan from the 1950s, "Music For Everyone," the exhibit traces the history of symphonic music, opera, jazz, rock, pop, world music, and dance at the Bowl through sounds and images.

Summer hours (June 22 - September 22): Tuesday - Saturday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sundays, 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Off-season hours: Tuesday - Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturdays by appointment. Admission is free. For more information, call the Edmund D. Edelman Hollywood Bowl Museum at 323.850.2058 or visit <http://www.hollywoodbowl.com/visit/museum.cfm>.
