Hello Yellow Room Families! This year has just flown by, hasn't it? To kick off the month of August we are starting with a week all about dinosaurs! We will be digging for dinosaur eggs, making our own fossils, measuring dinosaur bones, and much more. We will definitely be putting our incredible imaginations to work!

The second week is about the Wild West! The kiddos will get to make their own wild west hats, decorate a horse and boot, complete a puzzle of a cowboy hat and boot using numbers, etc.

The third week is all about the circus/carnival. The kiddos will get to play various carnival games that incorporate learning such as counting while playing a paper plate ring toss. We will also have a lot of fun craft activities such as making a clown, popcorn, and puffy paint cotton candy!

The final week we will be learning about robots and inventions. We will be making different robots using pasta and construction paper. We will also be designing our very own robot masks using stickers, markers, and crayons. We are especially excited for this!
