Celebrate the 150th Anniversary of Little Women
Free Book and Movie Discussion at the Artcraft Theatre

FRANKLIN, Ind. – Celebrate the 150th anniversary of one of our all-time favorites, Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women" with us at the Artcraft Theatre Tuesday, May 8.

Join us for a book discussion at the Cottage (just behind The Willard, next to the theatre) at 6 p.m. Then we'll walk over to the theatre for the pre-show at 6:45 p.m.

If you can't make the book discussion, please join us for the 1994 Winona Ryder version of the movie, starting at 7 p.m. There will be no tickets for this event as the Johnson County Public Library Foundation and its generous donors are sponsoring the film. No RSVP is necessary.

"Little Women" is an autobiographical account of the author's life with her three sisters in Concord, Massachusetts in the 1860s. With their father fighting in the American Civil War, sisters Jo, Meg, Amy and Beth are at home with their mother, a very outspoken woman for her time. The story tells of how the sisters grow up, find love and find their place in the world.
