

About On Display

On Display is a Copenhagen-based design studio and exhibition space founded by Anders Gerning, Marie Heissel and Tor S. Johannesen in 2025. Working across visual communication, graphic design and creative direction, the studio approaches design as storytelling developing conceptually rooted narratives that span visual identities, publications, campaigns and spatial design.

Alongside client work, On Display curates exhibitions and events from the Copenhagen-based studio, fostering dialogue within the design and cultural fields. The studio often collaborates closely with other disciplines, drawing on a broad creative network to strengthen concepts.

In collaboration with 3daysofdesign, On Display created the official artwork for the 2026 edition of the festival, responding to the theme: Make This Moment Matter.

The artwork explores tension between past and present through a layered collage of still life, digital rendering and photographic elements reflecting the studio's ongoing interest in time, craft and contemporary interpretation. The 2026 artwork consists of two elements merged together in a collage. A poetic still life of a black lily in a flower vase with an Origami Teller superimposed on top. The juxtaposition of stillness and movement, reality and reflection evoke a certain anticipation alluding to the moment in between the past and the future.
