A diagram showing a red box and a blue box connected by a horizontal line, with a vertical line extending from the blue box.
