ULM: the perfect venue

Nestled in the heart of southern Germany, the city of Ulm stands as a beacon of history, culture, and modern amenities, making it an ideal location for hosting the SÜD GAMES. This picturesque city, straddling the Danube River, offers a unique blend of medieval charm and contemporary sophistication, ensuring an unforgettable experience for athletes and spectators alike.

The city's strategic location makes it easily accessible by road, rail, and air. Ulm's central train station connects seamlessly with major cities across Germany and Europe, while the nearby Stuttgart Airport provides international flight options. This connectivity ensures that participants and visitors can travel to Ulm with ease.

In terms of accommodation, Ulm offers a wide range of options, from luxury hotels to budget-friendly hostels, catering to the diverse needs of attendees. The city is also known for its warm hospitality, ensuring that all Karate guests will feel welcome and comfortable throughout their stay.

ROUND ROBIN: more matches

The SÜD GAMES have chosen a round robin format in Kumite and (!) Kata to maximize the number of matches for each competitor, enhancing the event for athletes, coaches, and spectators.

The round robin format ensures that every participant competes against all other contestants. This guarantees a higher number of matches per athlete compared to single-elimination formats, where a single loss can eliminate a competitor. More matches mean athletes have more opportunities to showcase their skills, leading to a more accurate and comprehensive assessment of their abilities.

In a round robin format, consistency and perseverance are crucial. Athletes can recover from an initial loss and still succeed, promoting a fairer competition where the best performers over multiple bouts are recognized.
