

Webinar Programme 2025

Human Dignity, Religion and the Law

Friday 7 February 2025 at 14.00 GMT (UK)

The first webinar of the ICLARS 2025 series will be held on Friday 7 February 2025 at 14.00 (UK)

Human Dignity, Religion and the Law is one of two volumes arising from the ICLARS conference held in Cordoba in 2022. For the webinar, a number of contributors to this book will be in conversation about their individual chapters and inter-connecting issues concerning law and religion scholarship today more generally.

Speakers will include:

Professor Mark Hill KC, Introduction
Professor María-José Valero-Estarellas, Discussant

Professor Renata Uitz
A Secular Liberal Defence of Freedom of Religion: The Case for a Duty of Reasonable Accommodation

Professor Burkhard J Berkmann
Legal Pluralism in German Scholarship: Its Application for Religious Freedom

Professor Fernando Simon-Yarza
Conscientious Objection to Unconstitutional Duties: A Conceptual Trap

Frank Cranmer
Reforming Weddings Law in England and Wales

To register for this webinar please send an email to iclars@unimi.it and you will receive a link to the ICLARS zoom platform shortly before the webinar.

Future Dates

The 2025 ICLARS Webinar Programme will continue as follows, with further details to be circulated in due course for each event:

12 March 2025	Anglican Canon Law (booking via the Ecclesiastical Law Society website)
w/c 7 April 2025	Professor Ahmed Salisa Garba, Bauchi State University, Nigeria
w/c 12 May 2025	Professor Arif Jamal, National University of Singapore
June 2025	'Comparative Approaches to Law and Religion' (ed) Renae Barker et al
2 July 2025	Professor Adelaide Madera, University of Messina, Italy
September 2025	Professor Mark Mosvesian, St John's University, New York, USA
October 2025	Professor Nicholas Aroney, University of Queensland, Australia