

I want to empower women and those around me.

As a self-starter who can work independently while also collaborating effectively with others, my attention to detail, positive energy, and prioritization work together to fulfill project deadlines and feedback. Confidence in sharing my thoughts and a passion for leadership allow me to be a responsible, honest, and dependable multitasker for every client. Utilizing the technicality of typography, color, and layouts allows me to build and maintain relationships filled with trust amongst audiences.
