Happy New Year Aqua Room Families we hope you all had a wonderful warm winter break! It is officially 2019 and we are ready to kick off the new year with so many different animal habitat activities!

In the first week of January, we will be talking all about the polar habitat! Children will be learning all about which animals hibernate and which ones don't. Children will also be working on addition and subtraction by using penguins to help them solve the equation. Children will be making a polar bear in a snow globe, a cotton tummy penguin, walrus head and so much more!

The second week we will be exploring the rainforest and jungle! Children will be working on reading, writing & building sight words. Children will be comparing the weight of bananas bunches. Children will also be working on differentiating which jungle and rainforest animals have 2 and 4 legs. Children will be making a paper plate zebra, ostrich, a monkey & more!

The third week of January, will be all about the grassland habitat! We will be making paper plate snakes, kangaroos, cheetahs and more! We will be sorting through if animals live in water, air or land and doing grassland animal measurements! Children will also discuss in their small groups if they could be any animal which one would they be.

In the last week we will be talking all about the desert! Children will be working on patterns and matching lowercase letters to their corresponding uppercase letters. Children will be making a desert landscape, camel on a stick and a scenic picture of a coyote and so much more!
