You're invited to a series of ten free, outdoor community art festivals across Los Angeles this summer in celebration of the Getty Center's 25th anniversary.

In partnership with the LA Phil's Youth Orchestra Los Angeles (YOLA), the opening weekend highlights arts and culture in the city of Inglewood. City Hall's front lawn, Grevillea Art Park, and the Beckmen YOLA Center host interactive workshops and performances for all ages with local musicians, local artisans and visual artists. Plus, enjoy an immersive digital experience of Getty collections, prizes and giveaways, photo booths, and food vendors.
